

Quilters' Chatter July/Aug, 2023

Burke Quilters Guild meets the first, second and fourth Monday of each month at the Burke Senior Center on Green St.

President's Message

Notes from Linda

Happy 4th of July. I hope you were able to see some fireworks somewhere! That and a picnic are the best parts of that holiday!

I was sorry to miss the last meeting, but I understand Linda Henson did a great job of leading it. It was nice to hear that the voting for the donation quilt ticket sales won out. AND more members signed up to support the well-known presenters for the next couple of months' workshops.

Hopefully having the July and August news sent out together doesn't cause any confusion. Be sure to mark your calendars with the various workshops and general meetings so you don't miss any of them. And if you haven't already signed up for those speakers, please call Linda Henson to get your name on the list and send your checks to Judy Pearson ASAP.

I am still looking for members to serve on the nominating committee for the end of the year election of officers. If you are willing to make a few calls to find members who are interested in running for office, please let me know. Once I have FIVE members, I will have a meeting with the committee to explain what needs to be done. We need a slate of officers by the August meeting to be announced for the election in September. Please call or email me if you are willing to serve on the committee.

A special thank you to Linda for running the meeting, to Barbara for volunteering her sister's quilts for the donation drawing, and to Terri for volunteering to get the tickets printed up. I know that the vote was close, but I also know that Linda encouraged you to vote yes because the programs she has set up according to the wishes of many of the membership will cost money that would have to come out of our treasury if we don't have the costs covered by members' participation in these workshops. (cont. next page)
